REPORT OF NEW IPSWICH STEARNS LECTURE FUND COMMISSION.

This generous fund was established in 1899 through the philanthropic kindness of Capt. Albert Stearns, superintendent of the Church & Dwight Soda Works, Syracuse, N. Y., who resided here with his parents in his early school days. After due consideration of the financial needs of the town, he accepted the suggestion of a lecture fund and immediately made provisions for the same. This is a perpetual fund, the income of which is to be used for its specified purpose. The selectmen are the trustees, to whom the New Ipswich Lecture Commission makes an annual report.

The first donation was three thousand dollars ($3,000), which is invested with the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Co. of 50 State street, Boston, Mass. The second donation was two thousand dollars ($2,000), in March, 1907, which the selectmen invested, viz.: one thousand dollars was deposited in the Amoskeag Savings Bank, Manchester, N. H., April 1, 1907; one thousand dollars in the Fitchburg Savings Bank, Fitchburg, Mass., June 25, 1907.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The school board reports no marked change of general conditions in the schools of the district. The greater part of the work has been done satisfactorily, and, as far as conditions have permitted, former teachers have been retained. Three of the five teachers now in charge of the schools were holding the same positions at the close of the previous year. There have been only two resignations during the year, the work in the five schools having been done by seven different teachers.

Despite the tendency toward increasing rates of pay, which must inevitably be given at no very distant date, the average rates of the current year exceed those of the previous one by only a few cents per week.

The attendance at the Academy of students from the district has been larger than before, with a resulting increase of about twenty-five per cent. in the amount required to be paid for tuition there.

The effects of long usage upon the text-books owned by the district made necessary a considerable purchase of new ones, and in several cases it also seemed advisable to replace at the same time copies of books not badly defaced, in response to the demand of the times for more practicable and thorough works, better fitted to the present methods of instruction than those used before. After careful examination of different text-books in arithmetic and grammar, Milne's Progressive Arithmetics and "The Mother Tongue" have been adopted, both of which have proven satisfactory. They are highly commended by teachers, and the pupils' interest in the subjects upon which they treat has increased.

The school at the High Bridge has been maintained during the entire year and has had an attendance much larger than at any other school in the district, despite a considerable attendance of scholars from that village at the Greenville parochial school. No lack of harmony on account of the different nationalities of the teacher and nearly all the scholars has been apparent, and both the teachers who have had charge of the school have expressed their gratification at the conduct and ability of their scholars. The same should also be said of the Finnish scholars, who now constitute so large a part of the Centre and Smithville schools.

The attendance during the year has been injuriously affected by two causes. First, no less than four contagious diseases have demanded careful attention from the board and the health officer, and scholars have necessarily been absent from all the schools, the Centre Village having suffered especially from this cause. But it also must be noted that many parents do not seem to realize the importance of having their children improve the school privileges which the district affords, and hence the matter of regular attendance has been greatly emphasized for the benefit of both teachers and pupils. Apparently many parents are not aware that keeping children at home to work or allowing them to be absent for visits outside the district are both illegal, and that parents are liable to a fine, increasing if repeated, for permitting such absences. The law is explicit, and admits only the "physical or mental condition" of a child as excuse for its absence from the public schools, unless equal attendance is given at some other school approved by the school board. Nor has that board any power given it to grant liberty of absence for any other reason, even though its members may consider the reason presented for absence to be a sufficient one.

In accordance with the recommendation contained in the report of the board one year ago, children under eight years of age ordinarily will be received into the schools of the district only at the beginning of the school year, unless they are fitted to enter classes already formed in the school which it is desired to enter.

There has been a very gratifying general harmony between parents and teachers during the year, although there have been exceptions to that condition. But it is noticeable that causes of conflict greatly lessen when parents make themselves acquainted with the school conditions viewed from within the schoolroom as well as from the scholar's home. A more general habit on the part of parents of visiting the schools not only would gratify and encourage the teachers, but without doubt would prevent or remove most causes of misunderstanding and trouble.

Respectfully submitted,
